

Priding ourselves on being the first major code with an all-Mainland regional team, we are merged together by a giant iconic 'zip'- our majestic Southern Alps.

To outsiders, they see ALPINERS simply as our name and logo. But for us Mainlanders, the Southern Alps capture the spirit of who we are as people, as players and as a team

As ALPINERS we have enormous courage - with the resilience to deal with and overcome any adversity thrown our way. We are all about community and selflessness, we'll always be there in support of others. We pride ourselves on our uncompromising work ethic and desire to succeed.

As a team, we will relentlessly strive to reach new heights. Never taking a backward step.

Or in the immortal words of the our beloved Sir Ed, the world's greatest ever Alpinist, we'll simply keep going until we can say...We Knocked The Bastard Off!
